

Irish in Britain Seminar Series 2010

10 May – 7 June

The recent upturn in Irish migration indicates that London and the south-east of England continues to be one of the most favoured destinations of Irish migrants into the 21st Century. This year's seminar series focuses on a range of social, political and cultural experiences in the region for both the Irish-born and those of Irish descent over the last sixty-five years.

10 May, Dr. Anna Davin, History Workshop Journal
An Irish New Zealander in Post-War Oxford

17 May, Ethel Corduff, Royal College of Nursing
Irish Nurses in London in the Post-War Years

24 May, Dr. Róisín Ryan-Flood, University of Essex
Sexuality, Citizenship and Migration: The Irish Diaspora in London

7 June, Dr. Sean Campbell, Anglia Ruskin University
Dwellers on the Threshold: Making a London-Irish 'Home' with The Pogues

The Irish Studies Centre has provided a forum for teaching, learning and research since 1986. The Irish in Britain Seminar Series offers an informal but informative forum for students, researchers and scholars to debate and disseminate the latest research on Ireland, migration and the diaspora.

Seminars will take place on Monday evenings between 6.30 – 8.00 p.m.

The Old Staff Café
London Metropolitan University, Tower Building, 166-220 Holloway Road
ALL WELCOME – Refreshments provided

For further information contact Tony Murray: t.murray@londonmet.ac.uk

www.londonmet.ac.uk/irishstudiescentre www.londonmet.ac.uk/iset