

Using web resources effectively for translation purposes
Date	Saturday 9 th April 2011
Place	City Campus, 84 Moorgate London EC2M 6SQ
Number of spaces available	15 maximum
Languages	This course is non-language specific, but please note that examples will be provided in English
Time	10:30 – 15:30 (1 hour for lunch break)
Fee	£100
Who is it for?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Undergraduate and postgraduate students of Translation and Language degrees; - Practising translators seeking to acquire the practical skills and evaluative competencies needed to find and manage reliable and useful online resources
Entry requirements	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - A good command of English and one other language - Basic IT skills
Course Objectives	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - To develop student understanding of how the communication systems available on the internet will be tailored to the needs of a professional environment - To develop student skills to carry out translation related searches on the WWW, research into domain specific knowledge, evaluate, store and retrieve results.
Course content	Areas covered will include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Search tools useful for translators (search engines, directories) - Online resources useful for translators (parallel texts, term banks and terminology databases) - Search strategies to find reliable information (Google Syntax & Advance Searches) - Criteria to evaluate online resources
Teaching language	English
Contact	Interpreting-translation@londonmet.ac.uk Geneviève Robinson (Short Course Administrator): Rocío Baños Piñero (Short Course Trainer): r.banos@londonmet.ac.uk
How to enrol	Fill in the Enrolment Form provided under the course heading at: www.londonmet.ac.uk/depts/hal/shortcourses and make payment as instructed.