Welcome to our Open Day

We are delighted that you are interested in studying at London Metropolitan University.

London Met will provide you with an affordable, quality education in one of the world's most exciting cities.

This open day is an opportunity to discover what London Met has to offer you. As well as tours of our facilities, we have information on getting the best value accommodation and options for funding your studies.

Lecturers will be on hand to discuss courses, and students and graduates will also be available to talk about life at London Met.

We hope you find our open day informative and enjoyable.

About the day

Arrival and check in

When you arrive at the open day please check in or register at the welcome desk if you haven't already.

Help desk

If you have any questions relating to the open day, then please visit the help desk.

Emergencies

If the fire alarm sounds please leave the building immediately and follow the directions given by the fire marshals and Student Ambassadors. First aid assistance can be obtained at the help desk.

Information Fair

At the information fair you can meet academics and learn more about your course. There will be stands on accommodation, admissions, learning support and various other student services.

Accommodation and tours

Visit the accommodation stands to find out about various housing options. A number of external accommodation providers will be around to discuss residential options available in the local area. You can also book a tour of our accommodation providers' halls of residence at the accommodation desk.

Tours take place approximately every 20 minutes.

Talks and Workshops

Please refer to your session schedule for locations and times.

Welcome to the university

News

Enterprise booms at London Met

Faculty of Business & Law alumna Giorgia Bacco successfully made her way through to the 'Big Idea Challenge' final to be crowned the 2014 winner. She has been awarded £2,000 in funding, a website, marketing consultancy, stationery pack, professional video and space in our business incubator.

Funding secured for organ repair research

Scientists at London Metropolitan University are part of an EU consortium that has secured a €1.5m funding grant to explore a new approach to repairing organ damage. London Met is one of the leading institutions in the field of microvesicle study, which is rapidly emerging as an important area of medical research.

Julie Berdou, a third year interior design student has won a prestigious national award for designing 'WW – a mobile workplace that connects' as part of the RSA Student Design Awards 2014.

Blogger of the year

Emine Hassan won London Met Journalism's Blogger of the Year competition 2014, in association with Channel 4 News. Check out Emine's blog, 'MBakes', a celebration of all things cake.

By royal appointment

The University recently welcomed HRH The Duke of York, KG, as its new Patron.
